Virginia Obituary

JOHN C. MOORE

John C. Moore, 94 years of age, probably the oldest resident of Appomattox county at the time of his death, died Wednesday Dec. 22nd, at his home near Bent Creek. He was a native of Appomattox county and spent his entire life as a resident here.

Mr. Moore was well known He was remarkable in that he was able to assist in the making of a crop of tobacco as late as during the past summer, for he worked in the crop regularly, despite his great age. Mr. Moore was born November 23, 1826, and he lived during the life time of all of the presidents of the United States, excepting Washington, Jefferson, John Adams and Monroe.

Mr. Moore was the father of five children, only one of whom T. M. Moore, survives. That he was the head of a large family of four generations is seen from the fact that he is survived by 23 grandchildren and 57 great grandchildren.

A familiar figure will be missed from the streets of Appomattox where Mr. Moore was frequently seen. He was a large tax-payer in this county, and while he was outspoken and frank in his opinions and dealings with his fellow man, he was greatly esteemed and had a wide circle of friends, who will regret to learn of his death.

Cheatham—Caldwell

Miss Eltha Dabney Caldwell, daughter of Mr and Mrs. W B Caldwell, of near Pleasant, and Robert Elliott Cheatham, of Appomattox, were married Thursday, Dec 23rd, in Lynchburg, by Rev. W S. Rowell at the home of the minister The bride was attired in a suit of blue tricotine with hat and gloves to match. Mr. and Mrs. Cheatham left later in the afternoon for a trip to Richmond and Norfolk. Among those attending the wedding were Mrs. Lula Howerton, Mrs. C. R Odor, Mrs. H. C. Babcock, Misses Clarkie Cheatham, Kathleen Babcock, Mabel, Beulah and Evelyn Caldwell and Messrs. Aubrey Cheatham, Samuel Howerton, Raymond, William and Clyde Caldwell.

Scheffler—Smith

A quiet and pretty marriage took place at 10 a. m. this morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Smith near this place when their eldest daughter, Enola Gay became the bride of Mr. Oscar Luther Scheffler, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Scheffler, of this place. The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the contracting parties, Rev W. G. Bates, Jr., in the presence of a number of relatives and friends; the bride being attired in a dark blue traveling suit, the groom wearing the conventional black.

The parlor was tastefully decorated with ferns and potted plants. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs S. Guy Smith as best man as matron of honor and entered the parlor to the strains of Lobengrin's wedding march, rendered by Mrs. C. W. Smith.

They left on the west bound N. & W. train for an extended visit to friends and relatives in Chattanooga and other points. Upon their return they will reside at the home of the groom, near Appomattox, who is a progressive young farmer. The best wishes of a host of friends accompany them.

Word was received here this morning that the end had come in the long watch over the person of Captain Nathan Hancock, his death occuring at his home in Lynchburg at 5 A. M.

He married Miss Marshall, of Charlottesville years ago and his remains will be interred there. He has no children

His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hancock, and his brother, Mr C. A. Hancock, our townsman, and his devoted young wife have our sympathy Nathan was a true type of a young man, educated at Virginia Military Institute. He entered business with his father and brother and the business prospered. Although for the past five years he has been in bad health he wanted to help in all things which benefited his church, city and firm

Venom Even Affects Vegetables.

One authority on snakes has declared that the venom of the rattler will affect even vegetables. Having inoculated various varieties with a point of a lancet, he found them the next day withered and dead, looking as if they had been struck by lightning.

Mike Notes
